

Primitive House Rug Hooking.

Not yet a hooker? Learn the simple art of traditional wool rug hooking while working on a personalized 18" x 24" design of your home. A unique, primitive 'canvas' of your own house will be individually hand drawn by Mark Lipinski. The workshop is designed to unleash the student's creative potential, and it covers hooking equipment and materials, techniques, history and tradition.

- The student must submit a clean, simple photo of the student's home to Mark by January 31, 2010
- A large color selection of Weeks Dye Works wool for rug hooking will be available for sale during the class. Expect to spend between $50 and $150 for wool; you may bring your own wool.
- Due to the unique personalization of each design, a cancellation fee of $120 will be charged; in that case, the student will receive her house-designed fabric. The Cancellation Insurance does not apply to the $120 fee.

Supply List

1 pair small, sharp scissors

Rug Hooking Frame (if you have one. Mark uses a Puritan Rug Hooking Frame). If you do NOT have a rug hooking frame, then a large, sturdy, embroidery hoop/hooking frame will do.

An assortment of various colors of dyed wool fabric for your project.

A rug hook

1 yard Red Dot Pattern Tracer Fabric

Rug hooking strip cutter (like a Fraser Cutter, etc. Check out eBay!) OR

1 rotary cutter with a new, sharp blade

1 self-healing cutting mat 24' x 36"

1 acrylic ruler (Mark uses the Omnigrid 6"x 24")
